The approval of the decision shows how important it is to teach foreign languages determined.

Today, it is clear to all of us that knowing and learning foreign languages is part of the educational system is one of the important components. Knowing a foreign language is a must, regardless of the field is an important factor. For example, if you go to a foreign country you need to know the Russian language or, if not, the English language perfectly. Currently, the main system for teaching foreign languages has been created in our country system to educate the young generation, to mature the bright future of our country aimed at becoming one of the first among the countries of the world. 2012 year of the head of our state "Measures for further improvement of the system of learning foreign languages" on December 10 The adoption of the "About" decision is another example of the attention paid to education in our country is an example.

In fact, grammar concepts are also taught when teaching because teachers' lesson plans indicate this. However, this process is easy and there is also a game for fun. For example, subject word groups (parts of speech). They are good at learning and distinguishing word groups need Pupils are given music in English and listen from the song during the task of writing only words related to nouns and then the learner can be given another set of words. So the topic is strengthened, using this method in the process of passing other subjects possible To organize it as a cultural entertainment for people possible.

When using games, use them according to the knowledge and age of the children we can change, that is, simplify or complicate. This The purpose of the games mentioned above is to strengthen the memory of students, mentally increase capacity, quickness, intelligence, easy memory of new words and most the main thing is to organize the lesson meaningfully. Today, the educational process is mainly at all stages of the education system, although it is traditionally conducted organization of continuous learning of foreign languages, as well as the qualification of teachers to increase and provide modern teaching and methodical materials requires improvement

In short, to teach foreign languages in today's rapidly developing era in a time when the need is high, innovative education from modern methods in the educational process effective use of technologies makes this process fast and efficient. In particular, technological tools are used for every skill of learning a foreign language (reading, writing, listening). understanding and speaking). The education system of our country is perfect, mature and We are all the future, as it aims to educate a free-thinking person teachers learned modern methods and technologies and used them effectively out to young people.
