Introduction:

Today, the global changes taking place rapidly in the world affect the peoples and lives of the world and create different views. Humanity has to live in a completely different environment, new demands and increased risks. In such a situation, the unity and solidarity of any people and nation, which has been tested for a long time and faced various difficulties of life, serves its interests. The presence of rich material and cultural heritage in our country, which has a history of several thousand years, the development of national and universal values, as well as the birth of scientists and philosophers whose names are forever etched in the history of human civilization, this ancient land has been the cradle of human civilization since time immemorial.

Literature analysis and methodology:

From the first years of independence, important organizational and legal foundations aimed at strengthening our independence were created. In particular, the Constitution of the Republic of Uzbekistan was adopted in accordance with state symbols, national and universal values and democratic principles approved by law. Also, Uzbekistan, which is a member of a number of prestigious international and regional organizations such as the United Nations, UNESCO, the International Olympic Committee, the Shanghai Cooperation Organization, and the Organization of Islamic Cooperation, has contributed to its position and prestige in the international arena. got. In the glorious past, a new attitude has appeared in re-studying and researching the tarnished history of our nation, restoring the bright memory of our great ancestors, studying our old cities, rich material and cultural heritage.

Reforms in our society can be successfully implemented only when our national values, customs and traditions are revived and further developed. Because only a spiritually mature, enlightened, spiritually stable person with the ability to think in a new way can walk the path of independence and development with honor. Therefore, studying the cultural heritage and high spiritual values of our people deeply and comprehensively, inculcating them in the mind of every person living in our Republic, especially educating the young generation as spiritually mature and selfless people is one of the most important tasks.

Uzbekistan, a nation once steeped in history and rich cultural heritage, embarked on a journey of independence in 1991. This new chapter, marked by a profound shift towards self-determination, has been instrumental in shaping the nation's trajectory, leading it towards a future of national revival and development.

Results:

Independence marked a decisive moment for Uzbekistan, allowing the nation to break free from the constraints of a centralized system and chart its own course. This freedom enabled Uzbekistan to forge its own identity, prioritizing national interests and aspirations. The path of independent development empowered Uzbekistan to establish its own political, economic, and social structures, creating a space for its unique culture and values to flourish.

The journey towards national revival is inextricably linked to the principle of self-reliance. Uzbekistan, under its independent leadership, has embraced a strategic approach to development, prioritizing domestic resources, talent, and innovation. This commitment to self-sufficiency has fostered a spirit of national pride and empowered Uzbekistan to overcome external dependencies, making it more resilient and self-assured.

The path of independent development has propelled Uzbekistan towards a bold transformation across all spheres of life. Modernization efforts have focused on building a robust infrastructure, diversifying the economy, and fostering a knowledge-based society. The nation has invested heavily in education, healthcare, and technological advancements, transforming itself into a more modern, dynamic, and globally competitive player.

Discussion:

Beyond economic and social progress, independent development has allowed Uzbekistan to reclaim and celebrate its rich cultural heritage. The nation has focused on preserving its unique traditions, arts, and languages, fostering a renewed sense of national identity. This revitalization of cultural roots has not only strengthened national unity but also showcased Uzbekistan's unique place in the world.

The path of independent development has been transformative for Uzbekistan. The nation has emerged as a confident player on the global stage, with a vibrant economy, a strengthened cultural identity, and a clear vision for the future. As Uzbekistan continues to navigate this journey of progress, the lessons learned from its independent development will continue to guide its path towards a prosperous and thriving future.

The path of independent development has been the defining force behind Uzbekistan's national revival. It has enabled the nation to forge its own destiny, prioritize national interests, and realize its full potential. By embracing self-reliance, modernization, and cultural revitalization, Uzbekistan has established itself as a nation with a strong foundation for a prosperous and promising future. The journey towards national development remains ongoing, and the nation's commitment to independent development will continue to be its compass for navigating a world of opportunities and challenges.

Conclusion:

In conclusion, it should be said that Uzbekistan, having set ambitious goals and embarked on the path of innovative development, has taken a new step towards the destination of national development. Today, fundamental changes in our country, active constructive renewals are serving to change the life of our society and people's thinking. The acceleration of life, which is already a complex and exciting process, requires everyone to think independently, to be strong-willed, and to take a position of active citizenship. National growth is a process that is inextricably linked with the personal development of every citizen and the improvement of their lifestyle.
